THE HONEYWELL T SERIES

Fits your business to a T.

A man in a blue work shirt and khaki pants is walking from left to right. On the wall behind him is a white thermostat displaying the number 72. In the foreground on the right is a white Eames-style chair with a black metal base and wooden legs. The background is a plain white wall and a grey floor.

As an HVAC contractor, you need to maximize margins while controlling complexity. More isn't necessarily better. That's why instead of adding to our thermostat portfolio, we're optimizing it.
