

Honeywell 1000 Series Zone Valves are the industry leader, the time-tested choice that professionals continue to use.

Why? Because the reliable 1000 Series is designed for service and convenience — when there is a need to change one, you'll find that replacement is fast and easy. You won't have to stock a variety of valves, because 1000 Series zone valves will fit on virtually every system, and the automatic reset after power failures helps you avoid service calls. Best of all, they work. In short, for all your zone valve needs, you can count on a classic, the Honeywell 1000 Series.
